NIXON STEPS UP BITTER ATTACK ON RIVAL; KENNEDY OFFERS PLAN TO APPOINT CONSUMER ADVISER

U.S. CRITICIZES U.N. REPORT ON CONGO, COMES TO BELGIUM'S AID

State Department Issues Special Statement — Seems Suspicious of Efforts to Reinstate Lumumba.

© New York Times News Service

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5—The United States Government has taken sharp issue with the latest United Nations report on conditions in The Congo. A special statement issued by the State Department yesterday rejected criticism in the U.N. report of the Belgian government and its role in its former colony.

The report, prepared for the U.N. by Rajeshwar Dayal, an Indian diplomat who is Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold's special representative in The Congo, charged that Belgians were trying to dominate the Congo Government and to exclude or hamper U.N. assistance and influence.

"We have every confidence in the good faith of Belgium in its desire to be of assistance in The Congo," the special statement by the United States Government said. "We therefore are unable to accept the implication to the contrary contained in various parts of the (U.N.) report."

This was one of the rare instances when the United States has gone on record as openly critical of U.N. activities or reports. It reflected the suspicion that some countries are trying to use the U.N. presence in The Congo to win reinstatement for ousted Congolese Premier Patrice Lumumba.

Red Influence.

That in turn, officials here believe, would open the door to a revival of Communist influence and activity of the kind that was growing until Premier Lumumba was removed from power by a military coup. Col. Joseph Mobutu, who engineered the coup, ordered all Soviet bloc diplomats and technicians to leave the country in mid-September.

Washington's statement reflected the United States Government's continued mistrust of Lumumba. It noted with approval the Dayal report's comment that the only two Congolese institutions "whose foundations still stand" were the president of the republic, Joseph Kasavubu, and the parliament.

The State Department said it presumes that "if the minimum conditions of non-interference and security could be established" the Congolese parliament then could act on President Kasavubu's nomination of Joseph Ileo to succeed Lumumba as premier.

Many officials here suspect that some of the U.N. troops in The Congo, notably those from Ghana and Guinea, are being used not only to protect Lumumba but to support his political cause. The Indian government is believed to sympathize with Lumumba.

Lumumba Question.

Officials of these governments have argued that Lumumba was illegally removed from power. There is a strong suspicion here that this pro-Lumumba sentiment was reflected in the Dayal report to the U.N.

The State Department statement was aimed at giving Washington's NATO ally moral support in face of the attack from Dayal. It noted the latter had mentioned with approval "reactivation of the economic enter-

VATICAN IS REPORTED COMPLETELY NEUTRAL ON PRESIDENTIAL RACE

© New York Times News Service

ROME, Nov. 5

THE CATHOLIC CHURCH is completely impartial toward the two candidates in the American presidential race and does not care whether a Republican or a Democrat is elected President next week, authoritative unofficial sources in the Vatican said yesterday.

The indifference of the Vatican to the outcome of the presidential election is due to fact, they said, that danger of Communism does not exist in the United States and that in any case neither Republican nor Democratic party can be suspected of being "soft" towards the Reds. Moreover, both parties stand for religious freedom and have never failed to respect the liberty of the Roman Catholic Church.

MAYOR TUCKER ILL, CALLS OFF TRIP TO ISRAEL

Mayor Raymond R. Tucker today canceled a trip to Tel Aviv, Israel, because of a recurrence of an infection in his upper respiratory tract. He has had a fever for several days and has remained away from his office since Wednesday.

As president of the American Municipal League, the Mayor was scheduled to depart next Wednesday for Tel Aviv, where he would have headed the American delegation to the International Congress of Municipal Authorities.

Following the Tel Aviv conference, the Mayor was scheduled to return to this country on Nov. 26 to attend the annual convention of the American Municipal League at New York. He still plans to attend that meeting.

OUSTER RUMORS TREATED AS JOKE BY KHRUSHCHEV

MOSCOW, Nov. 5 (AP)—Premier Khrushchev made fun today of Western rumors that he had been arrested and deposed.

Smiling broadly as he received Canadian Ambassador David Johnson in the Kremlin, he said: "Well, I am still here."

Johnson told reporters later Khrushchev and Soviet President Leonid Brezhnev, whom he saw in a separate meeting, appeared highly amused by the rumors.

Earlier, Khrushchev and Brezhnev went to the airport to welcome a Chinese Communist delegation headed by President Liu Shao-chi.

"We stand and will stand together," Liu told the Soviet welcoming party. Brezhnev, in his response, said solidarity of the Chinese and Soviet Communist parties is "the guarantee of the victory of Communism."

The Chinese joined world communist leaders here to celebrate the forty-third anniversary of the Bolshevik revolution.

SIGNS RIBBING PRESIDENT FORCED DOWN IN CROWD

CLEVELAND, Nov. 5 (AP)—Just before President Eisenhower left the Cleveland Sheraton hotel yesterday there was a brief scuffle in the waiting crowd, and bystanders forced the bearers of two signs to lower them.

One of the hand-lettered placards said on one side: "What's the matter, no golf today?" and on the other, "Autographed golf balls, three for a quarter." The other sign advertised: "Coat-tail manufacturers for Ike."

Nixon-Lodge supporters lining the curbs cheered as the signs disappeared.

PRESIDENT AT CAMP DAVID

THURMONT, Md., Nov. 5 (AP)—Preseident Eisenhower flew today to his Catoctin mountain retreat for a weekend of rest before the windup of the political campaign. His helicopter set down at Camp David after a 35-minute flight from Washington.

The President was accompanied to the retreat by George Allen, a friend. Mr. Eisenhower expects to return to Washington late Sunday.

ST. LOUIS SHARES IN RISE IN U.S. JOBLESS TO PEAK FOR 22 MONTHS

3915 New Compensation Claims Here in Week—National Unemployment Put at 3,600,000.

Initial claims for unemployment insurance in St. Louis and St. Louis county rose 955 to 3915 in the week ended yesterday, Charles G. DeLargy, metropolitan manager of the Missouri Division of Employment Security, reported today.

Continued claims totaled 14,328 this week, an increase of 1596 over the total of continued claims in the previous week, DeLargy said.

Meanwhile, Government sources in Washington reported that national unemployment rose by 200,000 in October to the highest level in 22 months.

The October jobless increase pushed the unemployment rate from September's 5.7 per cent to 6.4 per cent, the Government sources said. This was the highest percentage since December 1958.

3,600,000 Unemployed.

The new figures indicate that about 3,600,000 persons were unemployed in October, compared with 3,400,000 in September. Though unemployment rose last month, the number of persons with jobs was a record, about 67,500,000.

The October employment figures were obtained by United Press International after the Department of Labor said they would not be released until after Tuesday's election.

Discussing the local unemployment situation, DeLargy said the 14,328 continued claims on file in his office were "comparatively high."

Initial claims are the first claims for unemployment insurance made by persons out of work, whereas continued claims are those made by unemployed persons who continue to file weekly after making their initial appeal.

DeLargy noted that the number of continued claims this week is 601 greater than the number on file on the comparable week last year, when a portion of the unemployment could be attributed to the steel dispute.

Initial Claims Down.

The number of initial claims filed in the last week was 860 less than the number filed in the comparable steel strike week of 1959, DeLargy said. Initial claims at this time last year totaled 4775.

Seasonal Slowdowns.

Seasonal slowdowns in the shoe and apparel industries account in part for the rise in unemployment here in the last week, DeLargy said.

On the East Side, Granite City Steel Co. reported today that 239 production workers were laid off yesterday. A spokesman for the company said the main reason for the lay-off was the continued low demand for steel.

Granite City Steel is operating at 64 per cent of capacity, above the industry-wide average of 51 per cent, the spokesman noted.

One hundred employes of General Steel Castings Corp. in Granite City were laid off in the last two days, the company said in answer to an inquiry. The lay-off was attributed to a customary fourth-quarter slump. The firm, which makes steel railroad equipment, has a work force of about 1700.

NAVY PLANE DROPS BOMB NEAR TUG, 5 MEN HURT

YOKOSUKA, Japan, Nov. 5 (UPI) A United States Navy plane engaged in exercises with the Seventh fleet accidentally dropped a bomb close to the Navy's sea going tug Cree, the Navy disclosed today.

Five crewmen were injured. Boatswain's Mate 3-C Jeff L. Holden, Tampa, Fla., suffered a ruptured eardrum and a neck sprain when he tried to protect a shipmate from the explosion. The other four men suffered concussions.

Holden was reported in "very good condition." The others were not taken to the hospital. The Cree suffered minor damage.

BUYERS WOULD BE REPRESENTED IN ALL ACTIVITIES OF GOVERNMENT

Woman Might Head Counsel's Office, Senator Says — Disproportionate Price Rises Cited.

By RICHARD DUDMAN
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Nov. 5—Senator John F. Kennedy disclosed a plan today to create the office of consumer counsel, to represent the interests of American consumers in all government activities.

The Democratic presidential nominee told a Bronx women's luncheon that the new official, perhaps a woman, would be a sort of "people's counsel," as the late Supreme Court Justice Louis Brandeis described himself when he represented a group of citizens protesting against waste of resources.

Kennedy made his new proposal in a day of campaigning in New York City in a final weekend effort to nail down the state's 45 electoral votes.

He and his running mate, Senator Lyndon B. Johnson, will appear together tonight at a rally in the New York Coliseum. The rally will be carried nationally on television (on KMOX-TV at 8:30 o'clock).

Would Aid Consumer.

One of the first tasks of the consumer's counsel, Kennedy said in a speech prepared for delivery at the luncheon, would be to help devise policies to prevent price increases from working hardships on consumers.

Pointing out that the cost of living had risen more than 10 per cent in the last eight years, he said medical care had gone up 32 per cent, rent 20 per cent and household management 23 per cent.

"In short, the consumer has had to bear an undue share of the price rises which have lowered the purchasing power of every American," he said.

"We intend to halt this steady inflation, and we also intend to make sure that the consumer is the primary beneficiary of our economic policies."

Similar to Harriman Plan.

Kennedy's proposal follows closely a feature of former Gov. Averell Harriman's administration in New York. Harriman named a woman as his consumer counsel. One of her tasks was to study the effect of trading stamps on consumer prices.

Kennedy said he believed his consumer counsel would be "the surest safeguard of the public interest in a government where private interests have many and powerful voices."

In Chicago last night, Kennedy led a torchlight parade through the city, past thousands who jammed the streets in a light drizzle.

In a speech at the Chicago stadium, Kennedy drew the greatest responses when he piled on the ridicule and sarcasm that have become a standard part of his appearances this week.

Scoffing at Vice President Richard M. Nixon's reliance on "the rescue squad," Kennedy said:

"Contrary to what you may have come to think this week, we are not electing a committee for President of the United States."

A mighty "boo" came from the

BLAIR, 38 OTHER GOVERNORS TO GO TO LATIN AMERICA

Gov. James T. Blair will join Governors of 35 other states and three territories in a two-week visit to Argentina and Brazil this month, it was announced yesterday.

The Governor, accompanied by Mrs. Blair, is scheduled to leave New York by air Nov. 12 for a week in each country. Argentina and Brazil are paying expenses for the group, which is expected to total about 140 persons, an Argentine embassy spokesman said.

Nearly all the governors will be accompanied by their wives, and some by special assistants or secretaries, it was reported. Illinois Gov. William G. Stratton also is scheduled to make the trip.

2 MEN CAUGHT WITH PISTOLS NEAR KENNEDY

One Has Automatic in Pocket, Other Seized With Revolver in Bag.

CHICAGO, Nov. 5 (AP) — Two men carrying loaded pistols were snatched by police from crowds around Senator John F. Kennedy in a parade last night through Chicago's loop.

A platoon of security guards wrestled one of the men to the ground. An officer said he spotted him jogging along with the crowd within 20 feet of Kennedy's open convertible.

"When he saw me," Patrolman Vincent Moretti said, "he put his hand in his pocket and then started to run. I had to tackle him and then about 20 officers jumped in." A loaded automatic was found in his pocket.

The man was seized as Kennedy approached the Chicago stadium to address a huge rally.

Just an hour earlier, police grabbed a man carrying a revolver in a brown paper bag as he tried to brush past gate attendants at the auditorium.

Both men said they were carrying the pistols for protection and denied they intended to harm Kennedy. Police said each would be charged with carrying a concealed weapon.

Moretti said Kennedy apparently was unaware of the tussle near his car.

The man identified himself as Alejandro Jaime Cruz, a machinist who came to the United States from Puerto Rico six years ago. Cruz told police he was not aware that the pistol, a .25 caliber Spanish weapon, was loaded.

"I saw this bulge in his (coat) pocket," Moretti said, "and I went up to him."

When Cruz started to run, Moretti said, "I hollered, 'He's got a gun in his pocket.' I had to rip the pocket to get the gun out. . . . he put up a struggle."

Moretti said the pistol had a shell in the firing chamber. Its safety catch was unlocked.

Capt. Patrick Flynn said the man apprehended at the stadium gate was Israel Dabney.

Flynn said guards at the stadium gate asked to check the paper bag carried by Dabney. He refused and tried to crowd past the guards, Flynn said.

A guard grabbed the bag and in it found a .38 caliber revolver.

VOTERS WARNED OF LAST-MINUTE FALSE CHARGES

NEW YORK, Nov. 5 (AP)—The voters were alerted by the Fair Campaign Practices Committee yesterday to guard against being hoodwinked by fake rumors and charges by hate-mongers in the closing days of the presidential race.

"Fraudulent last-minute charges are a danger in every election," the committee said in a report.

"Many are showing up now. We urge every voter to regard any new charge made in the closing days of a campaign with suspicion and skepticism.

"Any legitimate charge—one that can be documented—almost invariably can be made before election eve."

The non-partisan committtee has the indorsement of both parties.

The report said all four candidates on the two major national tickets are subjected to false accusations of bigotry.

"Most of them (the attacks) try to make out one candidate or another as anti-Semitic or anti-Negro," the report said. It said all such charges had been disproved.

TURKEY ACCUSES FOUR OF MISUSING $6,100,000 IN U.S. AID

YASSIADA, Turkey, Nov. 5 (UPI)—The governing National Unity Committee charged former Finance Minister Hasan Polatkan yesterday with taking more than $6,000,000 for himself and three business men from the United States Development Loan Fund.

Polatkan and business men Necati Dolay, Huseyin Altan and Ragib Sipahi face 5 to 15 years in prison if convicted of misusing $6,100,000 from a United States allocation of $37,500,000 to the Turkish government in 1959.

The four men are among hundreds, including ousted Premier Menderes and his government, who are on trial on this island in the Sea of Marmara.

Slight Drop in Polio Cases.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5 (AP)—The number of new polio cases dropped to 119 last week after a slight upward spurt in the preceding week, the Public Health Service reported yesterday. There were 79 paralytic cases. The states reported 140 cases, 93 paralytic, in the week ended Oct. 22.

PRESIDENT SAYS ISSUE IS PEACE AND PROSPERITY

Nixon Will Guard Them, Eisenhower Asserts in Speech at Pittsburgh.

By THOMAS W. OTTENAD
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Nov. 5—Like an old warrior on a sentimental last campaign, President Eisenhower made an emotional, highly personal appeal last night for the election of Vice President Richard M. Nixon next Tuesday to guard the nation's peace and prosperity.

In a nationally televised address to a $10-a-plate Republican fund-raising dinner in Pittsburgh, the President struck out sharply at Nixon's Democratic presidential opponent, Senator John F. Kennedy, accusing him of "juggling . . . . promises" and of "tactics of confusion."

Only Nixon and his vice presidential running mate, Henry Cabot Lodge, offer the kind of leadership needed to combat Communism and maintain financial stability, Mr. Eisenhower said.

Back in Washington.

The President returned to Washington late last night after a one-day trip that took him to Cleveland and then to Pittsburgh.

It was the last campaign trip Mr. Eisenhower will make in this year's presidential race, White House aids said. His only other scheduled appearance is at Washington on election eve on a nationally televised program on which Nixon and Lodge also will appear.

Yesterday's tour was an effort by the Republicans to use the Eisenhower glamour and political appeal to swing to Nixon's column two states where Kennedy reportedly leads and to head off what many observers believe to be a national trend toward the Democratic nominee.

Together Ohio and Pennsylvania have 57 electoral votes. Many observers think that these states, along with New York,

VICE PRESIDENT USES PERSONAL CRITICISM ON CALIFORNIA TOUR

Democrat Assailed as 'Jackie Come Lately' Who Does Not Mean What He Says in Campaign.

By JAMES DEAKIN
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WITH NIXON IN CALIFORNIA, Nov. 5 — Vice President Richard M. Nixon was lashing out at his Democratic opponent in increasingly sharp and personal terms as the 1960 presidential race entered its final three days today.

Nixon attacked Senator John F. Kennedy repeatedly as a "Pied Piper from Boston" who would lead the United States into disaster, a "Jackie come lately" who doesn't mean his campaign promises and a man who is perpetrating a cruel hoax on the American people.

The Vice President campaigned in his home state of California today. He toured the central and southern California communities of San Jose, Hayward, Oakland and Van Nuys, seeking to swing the state's 32 electoral votes to his side. The race in California is believed to be close.

On Television Tonight.

Nixon will make a half-hour nation-wide television address from Los Angeles tonight, starting at 9 o'clock, St. Louis time. (It will be carried by KMOX-TV.) He plans to leave tomorrow for Anchorage, Alaska, fulfilling a promise to visit all 50 states during his campaign.

In Fresno last night, Nixon was welcomed by a crowd of several thousand persons at a downtown rally. For the first time in his current tour, he introduced Attorney General William P. Rogers and Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare Arthur S. Flemming.

Rogers, Flemming and Secretary of Interior Fred A. Seaton have been traveling with the Vice President in recent weeks, including the swing into South Carolina and Texas this week. Nixon introduced Seaton in Spokane, Wash., also for the first time.

Nixon's talk in Fresno was restrained. He appeared tired and elicited less response from his audience than usual. He again mentioned his hoarseness which was still noticeable.

Alaska to Detroit.

After a speech at a rally in Anchorage tomorrow afternoon, his schedule calls for a 3100-mile overnight flight to Detroit for a speech Monday. From Detroit he will return to Washington for a final nation-wide television broadcast on election eve.

He plans to fly to California after the television speech so that he can vote Tuesday in his home town of Whittier. He will be in Los Angeles Tuesday night as the election returns come in, and he plans to return to Washington on Thursday.

Nixon put in a long, hard day yesterday. After a morning speech in Fort Worth, Tex., he flew 875 miles to Casper, Wyo., then 720 miles to Spokane and finally 860 miles to Fresno—a total of 2455 miles.

Five Principal Points.

In his speeches and in statements he bore down hard on five principal charges which have become the mainstays of the latter part of his campaign:

1. Senator Kennedy, four years Nixon's junior, is not mature and experienced enough for the presidency. The White House, Nixon asserted repeatedly, should not be used as a "training school for a man to get experience at the expense of the American people."

2. A vote for Kennedy is in effect a repudiation of President Eisenhower and his eight-year administration. Again and again, Nixon identified himself with Mr. Eisenhower as a close co-worker and ridiculed Kennedy for criticizing the Eisenhower performance and policies.

3. Kennedy's "tendency to shoot from the hip," as Nixon put it, indicates that if he were President he might bungle the United States into war. The choice, Nixon asserted in Casper, is between experience and inexperience in foreign affairs. With inexperience, he said, there

Deer Hunters: If It Has Red Hat And Two Legs, It Isn't a Deer

WINNIPEG, Manitoba, Canada, Nov. 5 (UPI)—Deer hunters were given a clue yesterday on how to prevent accidental shootings this season.

C. H. Whitney, Provincial Minister of Mines and Natural Resources, issued the following statement:

"A white-tailed deer has four legs, stands about four feet high, often has horns on its head, has a white tail that sticks up when it runs and is light brown in color.

"A hunter has two legs, stands between five-and-one-half and six feet, has no horns and is all white or all red in color.

"Hunters should use extreme care when shooting the first mentioned animals to make sure they do not shoot the second."

London Clubs Offer New Job ---Inspecting Strip-Teasers

LONDON, Nov. 5 (UPI)—Night club owners in London are looking for someone to fill the job of strip-tease inspector.

The owners, fearing civic action, formed an association to prevent unethical conduct in their shows.

The Rev. Vernon Mitchell, vicar of St. Phillips' Church, was appointed a "censor." But the association needs someone to tour the clubs and keep an eye on the girls.

Their first choice is a retired policeman, but any law-abiding male is eligible to apply for the job.

"The aim is to bar complete nudity and to keep any strip acts well within the limits of decency," said attorney David Jacobs, who is handling applications for the job.

The job pays $2800 a year.

U.S. FEARS NEW JUNTA MEMBERS IN EL SALVADOR MAY BE LEFTIST

Might Be Front for Pro-Castro Forces Who Could Be Plotting to Take Over Government.

© New York Times News Service

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5—The Eisenhower Administration is deeply concerned about the possibility of a leftist take-over in El Salvador.

For two days officials in the State Department's Bureau of Inter-American Affairs have been in almost constant conference on the situation in the small Central American nation.

On Oct. 26 a junta of three civilians and three army officers took over power from President Jose Maria Lemus in a bloodless coup.

While the reports reaching the state department give a confused account of what is happening, some of them have aroused fears that the junta may have been set up as a front behind which leftist, pro-Castro political forces could take over the government.

It has been decided that the United States will not recognize the new government until it is satisfied of the political coloration of the civilian members of the junta and of their independence from leftist groups.

Junta Members Named.

The military members of the junta are Col. Cesar Yanes Urias, Lt. Col. Miguel Angel Castillo and Capt.-Maj. Ruben Alonso Rosales. It is believed here that these officers do not have any connection with the revolutionary party which supports Premier Fidel Castro of Cuba.

Very little is known here about the three civilian members — Rene Fortin Magana, Ricardo Falla Caceres and Fabio Castillo—except that the first two are lawyers and the third an engineer.

Some reports from San Salvador indicate that the man who stands behind the military members of the junta is Maj. Oscar Osorio, who led a revolt in 1948 against Dictator Castaneda Castro and served as president from 1950 to 56. At the end of Osorio's term, the presidency was transferred to his colleague, Col. Lemus.

Immediately after the coup last week, the junta announced that all political parties would be recognized which were deemed fit to operate within the constitutional framework, including the revolutionary party.

Traditionally the small wealthy, land-owning class in El Salvador has let the military run the government. Some officials believe, on the basis of reports from El Salvador, that leftists who may have master-minded the coup last week used the officers as a front in order not to arouse the suspicions of the army and the wealthy families.

On the other hand, there are reports that former President Osorio believes that, by giving leftist leaders power in the government, he can keep them under his control.

Even those who fear what may follow the overthrow of President Lemus agree that his regime had become increasingly authoritarian and had earned the hatred of moderates as well as liberals in El Salvador.

prises and the participation of bona fide humanitarian pursuits" by Belgian technicians and the resulting benefit of The Congo.

The United States Government said it should be possible for the U.N. and the Belgian government to co-operate in helping the Congolese.

It is believed here that without Belgian doctors, teachers, technicians and others, conditions in The Congo would be worse than they are.

Meanwhile, a dispatch from The Congo said a U.N. spokesman admitted the inaccuracy of earlier information alleging Belgian interference. It was conceded that only one of three civilians detained as ringleaders in an army of Baluba tribesmen and other irregulars was a Belgian. The others were a Swiss and a Brazilian.

By the Associated Press.

Dayal, who arrived in New York last night, went before the Congo advisory committee today to explain his controversial report. Hammarskjold also attended a meeting of the 18-nation committee made up of nations contributing to the U.N. force in The Congo.

The committee was expected to approve instructions for a 15-member conciliation commission to go to The Congo to try to reconcile rival political leaders.

The Congo issue will come before the General Asembly Monday.

Diplomatic sources in Leopoldville said President Kasavubu plans to fly to New York early next week to lead the Congolese delegation at the U.N.

Michigan, Illinois, California and Texas, may decide the outcome of the election.

Crowds In Two Cities.

The crowds that turned out in Pittsburgh were bigger than those in Cleveland. In downtown Pittsburgh at least 10 blocks were jammed solidly with two to six rows of persons on each side. A block of the street and sidewalk in front of the Pittsburgh Hilton Hotel was filled.

The President received a cordial but not overly demonstrative reception in both cities. Pittsburgh and Cleveland are strongly Democratic. In Cleveland a few spectators carried signs indicating affection for Mr. Eisenhower but dissatisfaction with Nixon.

More than 3000 persons attended last night's dinner. The President's 20-minute address was interrupted 17 times by applause, but none of the ovations was wild.

Mr. Eisenhower backed up his indorsement of Nixon by rather pointedly reminding his listeners of his own great wartime record and his long experience in handling men and making difficult decisions.

Recalls War Decision.

In an unusual personal reference he likened the problems of the presidency to those he faced as commander of the Allied forces in the invasion of Europe in World War II.

"On the eve of D-day on the Normandy beaches," he reminisced, "I was absorbed in a soul-wracking problem. A senior technical adviser and distinguished battle leader had protested to me that my assault plans involved the futile slaughter of two fine divisions of paratroopers."

Describing the personal torment he underwent in weighing this warning, the President said only he could make the final decision. His audience listened intently as he recalled the dramatic incident.

"I could take the problem to no one else," he stated. "Advice and counsel could do no more for me."

After reviewing his battle plans, he said, he decided to go ahead, and the pessimistic prediction he had received proved to be wrong.

Decision Is President's.

He has discovered that the President faces "equally soul-wracking problems many times in a single term of office," Mr. Eisenhower went on. When they arise, he said, only the President can make the final decision. He must do so without regard to his own future, the popularity of his action or the pressures of various groups.

"He will be face to face with himself, his conscience, his measure of wisdom," he observed. "And he will have to pray for guidance from Almighty God. Out of that knowledge of the presidency, I must vote for Richard Nixon next Tuesday."

Emphasizing the peace theme that has been a consistent part of the Republican campaign, the President asserted:

"The major, the overriding problem of today is the global struggle between those who seek to impose dictatorial domination over all men and those who seek to help all men achieve a good life in freedom. . . . Should we lose this struggle, Communism would darken the light of the world."

The primary importance of every issue in the presidential campaign, he continued, is its "effect upon our ability to win the ideological war."

Precepts Set Forth.

Calling for moral, military and economic strength, he laid out these precepts:

"Our moral strength must never waver; never weaken before the blackmail of threat; never degenerate into surrender-infected compromise with a gun-enforced tyranny.

"Our military strength must be, at whatever cost, so maintained that never again will the United States through military weakness be plunged into war—as it has three times within this century.

"To fortify our economic strength, we must pay our way, not thoughtlessly piling an ever-mounting debt upon the shoulders of our children and our grandchildren and forfeiting the confidence of other nations."

Emphasizing the theme of prosperity that has been stressed in the campaign by Republicans, Mr. Eisenhower restated attacks he has made previously on Kennedy's financial policies and the cost of his dometsic programs.

'Fiscal Shell Games.'

The Democrats, he said, are "wizards in fiscal shell games" who "try to prove that all problems can be solved by bigger government, bigger spending, bigger promises.

"They are idolatrous worshipers of bigness, especially of big government."

He accused the Democrats of conducting a campaign in which "the juggling of promises by the inexperienced, the appeal to immediate gain and selfishness, the distortion of fact, the quick changes from fantastic charge to covert retreat" are intended to confuse the voter.

These "tactics of confusion," he asserted, are "the offensive arsenal of those who lack a constructive program founded on tested principle."

Earlier yesterday in Cleveland, President Eisenhower sarcastically referred to Kennedy as a "young genius" and questioned where he had gained the experience and knowledge needed to guide the nation's finances.

700 RUSSIAN TECHNICIANS SET UP CUBAN CAMP

Big Crates Reported Unloaded Near Santiago Airport — Oriente Teachers Fired.

HAVANA, Nov. 5 (UPI)—About 700 Russian technicians have set up camp near Santiago's airport and are unloading a large number of huge crates of unknown content, it was reported today.

Travelers coming here from the eastern provincial capital said the Russians were sleeping in exhibition halls at the fairgrounds. They said the Russians were roaming Santiago's streets, freely saying they have just arrived from the Soviet Union, but brushing off queries as to what kind of technicians they are.

Groups of Russians are reported to have been meeting with Oriente university professors and students in "cultural exchanges."

Sixty of Oriente university's 113 professors were purged this week, including almost the entire faculty of the law school, "because their manner of thinking does not coincide with the people's revolution's needs."

In Washington, the Navy said yesterday it had received reports from Guantanamo Bay that Russian photographers have been staging anti-American pictures on Cuban territory not far from the big United States naval base.

The reports said the Russians had dressed Cuban men in United States Navy uniforms and photographed them in the act of beating Cuban women and children.

This propaganda activity, according to the report, took place near Guantanamo City, about 20 miles north of the base. The Navy said that it is seeking verification and further details through intelligence sources.

JOHNSON TERMS 3 HECKLINGS IN DALLAS 'SAD'

Vice Presidential Candidate and Wife Booed and Jostled by G.O.P. Crowds.

HOUSTON, Tex., Nov. 5 (AP)—Senator Lyndon Johnson, the Democratic vice presidential nominee, flew into Houston late last night and told a small crowd that greeted him he was glad they did not see three anti-Johnson demonstrations in Dallas.

"It was sad in Dallas—you wouldn't have believed you were in Texas," he said.

Johnson, who campaigned today in Beaumont, Tex., before he was to fly to New York for an appearance, referred specifically to a crowd of hundreds of persons who booed, jostled and heckled him and his wife, Lady Bird, as they attempted to enter a Dallas hotel ballroom.

Similar demonstrations greeted him at another Dallas hotel when he arrived from Fort Worth, and again at a speaking engagement at a Dallas shopping center.

Prominent in the mob that met Johnson at Dallas's Adolphus Hotel was Republican Bruce Alger of Dallas, the only Republican Congressman from Texas, and oil man Harry W. Bass Jr., a top Dallas G.O.P. leader.

Alger carried a sign with a picture of rancher on it carrying a carpetbag and reading: "L.B.J. Sold Out to Yankee Socialists." Bass shouted encouragement to the demonstrators, most of whom appeared to be young women.

Derisive banners were poked into Mrs. Johnson's face. One read "Down With Lady Bird." Mrs. Johnson appeared frightened at times, but the calm Johnson whispered reassurances to her several times. The Dallas News, which earlier announced support for the Nixon-Lodge G.O.P. ticket, said it took the Johnsons about 30 minutes to walk from the hotel's entrance to the ballroom, a distance of about 50 yards.

Cheers, shouts and clanging bells greeted the pair as they finally met a luncheon rally of 2000 supporters in the ballroom. Johnson told the rally crowd he hoped "none of our people will return in kind—any time." He added: "I asked the policemen to stand aside. I wanted to find out if the time had come when I couldn't walk with my lady through the corridors of the hotels of Dallas."

Dallas business man Joe Pool, Alger's Democratic opponent in the general election, said he telegraphed Nixon that "we expect you to disown such tactics and apologize for your self-proclaimed courageous Congressman, who hides behind the skirts of young girls to do his dirty work."

Admiral Who Smuggled Liquor From Guam Is Fined $15,000

Officer Shipped Alcohol as 'Household Effects'—Felony Charge Dropped.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 5 (AP)—Retired R. Adm. William L. Erdmann was fined $15,000 yesterday for not paying import taxes on liquors he brought home on an aircraft carrier from Guam. This was the maximum fine provided for non-comercial smuggling.

Two felony charges which could have sent Erdmann to prison for up to 12 years were dismissed by United States District Judge Oliver J. Carter.

The liquor, in a crate labeled "household effects," was unloader from the aircraft carrier Bon Homme Richard at Alameda and transported in a Navy truck to Erdmann's home. Customs agents said the liquor probably cost $1000 at the Navy ship's store on Guam but the United States cost would have been about $4300 with taxes.

audience as he ticked off each member of what he calls the rescue squad—Nelson Rockefeller, Thomas E. Dewey, Henry Cabot Lodge. "And I understand they are adding Alf Landon to their strategy board this weekend on how to win their campaign," he said.

Kennedy omitted the name of President Eisenhower, whom he had included in the list at other stops. He thus avoided causing the huge Chicago audience to boo the President.

The audience began to roar with laughter as soon as he started telling his familiar line about the circus elephants, each grabbing the tail of the one in front of it.

Nixon Running Now.

"Mr. Nixon grabbed that tail in 1952 and 1956," Kennedy said. "But now he is running — not President Eisenhower but Mr. Nixon."

Kennedy said he disagreed with those who say presidential campaigns should be abandoned.

"I believe the nature of the campaign tells you something about the nature of the candidate" he said.

"If a candidate for the presidency cannot stand the pressure of a campaign, or of a fifth debate, he cannot withstand the pressures of the presidency. If he cannot inspire confidence in the American people in the four months preceding election, he cannot maintain their confidence in the four years of office."

In his own campaign, Kennedy said, "I have tried to serve the American people, not to please them."

would be "the chance that a mistake, out of the best of intentions, could set off the disaster that we do not want."

4. Previous Democratic administrations have brought war, inflation, higher taxes, deficit spending and a cheaper dollar. Nixon told his Western audiences that Kennedy's proposals would take the country back to the "defeat and stagnation" of the Truman Administration.

5. Kennedy's domestic proposals would, if put into effect, cost an additional 15 billion dollars a year in federal spending. Nixon said Kennedy could not possibly raise this much money without increasing taxes or putting the Federal Government farther into debt.

The Senator, Nixon said in a statement in Spokane, contends he could work it out without tax increases or deficit spending. This was a reference to Kennedy's argument that a faster-growing economy would produce more tax revenue without a tax boost.

"The truth is that his promises represent the cruelest hoax any politician has ever tried to foist on the American people," Nixon asserted. He said the Kennedy proposals "would destroy the very economic health of our nation."

"His (Kennedy's) give-away program to win this election really is a we-take-away-from-the-poor-people progarm," Nixon said. "It is a program to buy his election with your money and your future."

LODGE SAYS KENNEDY CHANGES POLICIES

Charges Senator Retracted Three Statements on Foreign Policy.

AKRON, O., Nov. 5 (UPI)—Henry Cabot Lodge, Republican vice - presidential candidatte, campaigned in Pennsylvania and Ohio yesterday and repeatedly charged that Senator John F. Kennedy made three foreign policy statements which he later retracted.

Lodge lashed out at the Democratic presidential candidate's statements on the U-2 flight, Cuba and the Chinese offshore islands of Quemoy and Matsu, in speeches at Hazleton and York, Pa., and at Canton, O., and in Akron.

Lodge said Kennedy's stand on these three issues would have "gravely endangered" the nation if uttered by a President. He said Kennedy proposed that the President apologize to the Russians for the U-2 flight, favored drawing a line at Quemoy and Matsu, and advocated United States support for anti-Castro forces in and out of Cuba.

Each time, Lodge charged, Kennedy backed down. "A candidate can retract his words," Lodge said, "but a President cannot retract his mistakes."

"No President need apologize for taking steps to protect the United States," Lodge said, "and no Senator should bring a tense diplomatic crisis into a political campaign."

Lodge said that if the Massachusetts Senator had been President when he spoke on Cuba, "the consequences would have been unpredictable and dangerous beyond description."

"Any such action would have turned all of Latin America against us," he added.

Lodge carried his attack on Kennedy's foreign policy campaign statements into downstate Illinois at Bloomington today. He arrived in Illinois by chartered plane last night for a one-day swing through Bloomington for a party rally, Decatur and Peoria. In brief remarks to those who met his plane at Peoria yesterday, Lodge told voters they have a two-fold duty to elect both "a president and a man who can meet with world leaders."

DALTON WOULD CURB SECRECY IN STATE, LOCAL GOVERNMENT

Attorney General, Candidate for Governor, Speaks at Big Democratic Rally in Kirkwood.

Attorney General John M. Dalton, Democratic candidate for Governor, said last night that if he is elected, he will "give serious thought and study" to legislation against secrecy in government at state and local levels.

Dalton was one of several speakers at a campaign rally at Kirkwood High School, sponsored by the United Young Democratic Club of St. Louis county.

Six automobile parades from various sections of the county converged at the meeting place for one of the last big Democratic rallies before election day.

Other speakers included Senator Edward V. Long, Democratic candidate for the United States Senate; Richard L. (Larry) Carp, for Congress from the Second District; Hilary A. Bush, for Lieutenant Governor, and Senator Stuart Symington.

"During the last six weeks," Dalton said, "I have traveled about Missouri outlining positive, constructive programs I propose for state government if I am elected.

"All of these programs are the public's business and that is why I presented them in detail during this campaign. Tonight, during my brief remarks to you, I want to tell you of a specific piece of legislation I have been thinking about.

"I think the public has a right to know what is going on in its government. Therefore, if I am elected Governor I shall give serious thought and study to legislation attacking secrecy in government on the state and local levels. Other states have such laws."

Dalton's Republican opponent, State Representative Edward G. Farmer Jr., spoke at Springfield yesterday, saying the state's old-age pension program needed reorganization. Some case workers, he said, are "nothing but snoopers."

Senator Long issued a statement yesterday in support of the Democratic party's position regarding medical care for the aged. He said the Republicans, in opposing this, again had brought forth arguments they used in 1935 against the start of the present Social Security system.

The Democratic platform, Long said, "affirms for all Americans the right to adequate medical care and calls for a system for paid-up medical insurance upon retirement, financed in working years through the Social Security mechanism and available to all retired persons without a means test."

Long's Republican opponent, Lon Hocker, was in Kansas City and Jefferson City yesterday. At the state capital he asserted that Long had "exploited the public offices which he has held to become wealthy at the expense of the taxpayers of Missouri."

Hocker's headquarters issued a press release quoting him as follows:

"When my opponent was tapped by the small loan lobby as their candidate for the state Senate, he was a country lawyer of modest means. Today, because of the excessive small loan interest rates which he foisted on the people of Missouri, he owns three banks, two small loan companies, a chain of theaters and thousands of acres of farm land, including a 26-room mansion.

"Not only has he been responsible for—in fact, the author of — the legislation which raised small loan interest rates from 8 per cent to almost 27 per cent, but he has also been the beneficiary of state deposits on which he pays only 1 per cent."

Hocker renewed his attack on state Democratic party "bosses," saying: "It is time that the state of Missouri be taken out of the hands of the bosses and given back to the people. Indeed, it is time that the machinery of the Democratic party be given back to the Democratic party members."

Hocker was criticized by Thomas J. Guilfoil, a St. Louis attorney who was an associate of the late Senator Thomas C. Hennings, for what Guilfoil called "gross misuse" of Senator Hennings's name in this campaign.

Guilfoil said Hocker was hired "some years ago" as a lawyer "to do a technican's job" for a subcommittee headed by Hennings, "to insulate its work in the constitutional field from suspicion of narrow partisanship."

He said that in paid political advertisements Hocker "has distorted the bare facts of this employment" to imply "some strange kind of post-mortem indorsement of his candidacy by Senator Hennings."

$10,000 GOLD AND DIAMOND PIN RECOVERED, 4 ARRESTED

A gold pin encrusted with diamonds, valued at $10,000, lost Oct. 27 at the Log Cabin Club in Ladue, was recovered yesterday by St. Louis police who arrested three men and a woman for investigation.

The loss was advertised by the owner of the pin, Mrs. Harry E. Papin, 4531 Maryland avenue, who offered a reward for its return. She received a telephone call from a man, who asked for $2400 to return the jewelry. Several subsequent calls were made to Richard J. Watson, insurance adjuster, who arranged a meeting at his office, 506 Olive street. Two men kept the appointment yesterday, and were arrested by waiting detectives.

Police later arrested a waiter employed at the club, who said he found the pin and gave it to a woman friend, unaware of its value. The woman passed the pin on to one of the men who is being held.

NEW TICKETS TO BE ISSUED FOR MACARTHUR BRIDGE

New toll tickets for crossing MacArthur bridge will be issued by the city to replace old tickets, some of which had been counterfeited, it was announced today by Comptroller John H. Poelker.

Old tickets will not be accepted after Nov. 14, Poelker said. He urged ticket users to purchase new tickets or to trade in unused old tickets for the new type before the deadline. This will prevent traffic delays which may result if the old tickets are presented.

The new tickets are printed in two colors on a watermarked, safety-type paper to prevent their being counterfeited, he said. Two operators of a small print shop have been charged with forgery. Police raided their establishment and found counterfeit bridge toll tickets.

WOMAN GETS PROBATION FOR EMBEZZLING $20,347

Mrs. Clara M. Nolte, 1731 Del Norte avenue, Richmond Heights, was placed on probation for five years yesterday and ordered to make full restitution of the $20,347 she admitted embezzling from a Webster Groves construction company where she worked.

Circuit Judge Virgil A. Poelker at Clayton pronounced sentence. Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Daniel O'Brien said Mrs. Nolte, 54 years old, obtained the money by increasing the amounts on checks signed by her employer, Robert R. Wright, a contractor.

Discrepancies in the Wright firm accounts were discovered in an audit made last August, shortly after Mrs. Nolte quit her job. She had worked for Wright since 1952.

BRUCKER DISPUTES U.S. PRESTIGE DROP

Recent public opinion polls which show American prestige in foreign countries has declined do not present a true picture, Army Secretary Wilbur M. Brucker said here yesterday.

"What difference does it make what a man in a pub thinks? This is all hearsay. Nobody knows what he is talking about when he says our prestige isn't high. I've talked to rulers overseas and not one responsible person says our prestige isn't high," Brucker said.

Brucker held a press conference in St. Louis before going to Jefferson City for a rally for Lon Hocker, Republican candidate for the United States Senate seat of the late Thomas C. Hennings.

He said America should be praised for advances made in space in the Eisenhower administration. He noted that while Russia put up the first satellite, America has put more satellites in orbit than Russia has and has learned much scientific information from its space probes.

The power of the United States military establishment is now so great it could destroy Russia, Brucker added.

The Department of the Army is now working on its budget for the next fiscal year. He noted that the budget determines "how far we can go in our programs. We can't go any farther than money takes us."

Some "shifts in emphasis" will be included in the Army's new budget, but Brucker declined to name them.

Commenting on a current proposal that dependents of United States troops in Europe be brought home to check the flow of dollars to Europe, Brucker said it is important for morale to keep a soldier and his family together.

BLIND GIRLS' HOME SALE

The Blind Girls' Home, 5235 Page boulevard, will hold its annual sale of fabrics and household items from 1:30 to 5 p.m. today, it was announced. Among the items made by the girls for sale are pot holders, towels and kitchen novelties.

FOURTH DEMONSTRATION AT CAFE; 3 NEGROES HELD

Three young Negroes, who refused to leave the Howard Johnson restaurant at 3501 North Kingshighway last night after they were refused service, were handed police court summonses. It was the fourth demonstration by groups of young Negroes at the restaurant this week.

Ordered to appear in court Nov. 17 for the latest demonstration were William Archibald, 22 years old, 2732 Burd avenue; Alfred Jones, 19, 3833 St. Louis avenue, and Lawrence Young, 17, 4607 McPherson avenue.

Some leaders of racial integration in St. Louis have expressed themselves as not in agreement with a picketing demonstration by a large group of teen-agers outside the restaurant last Wednesday night. A spokesman for the pickets said the demonstration was sponsored by the St. Louis Youth Council of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

PARKCHESTER RESIDENTS VOTE TO FIGHT REZONING

Residents of Parkchester, an unincorporated community in St. Louis county, voted at a meeting last night to "fight every petition of downgrading" their area.

The group said it was opposed to rezoning of a 150-acre tract bounded by Mason, Weidman and Manchester roads to permit small housing sites and construction of commercial buildings. The proposed action would render the section much inferior to any surrounding area, and is unnecessary because there is "ample zoning" of this type in nearby Manchester, residents said.

Petitions were signed by about 300 of the 500 residents in Parkchester, which is between Manchester and Ladue and west of Town and Country. The petitions outlined the objections discussed by those in attendance and called for an ordinance adopting the Harland Bartholomew & Associates best-use plan for the county.

WOMAN KILLED WHEN STRUCK BY AUTO IN COUNTY

Mehlville Victim Was on Way to Church—Man Dies in Plunge From Viaduct.

Mrs. Frieda Speck, 5441 Edelweis lane, Mehlville, was killed yesterday when she was struck by an automobile in the 4500 block of Telegraph road, Oakville.

Mrs. Speck, 57 years old, was walking to St. Francis of Assisi Catholic Church, 4558 Telegraph, to attend an evening Mass when the accident occurred. She was struck about a half block from the church.

Driver of the car, James Faucett, told police he was driving north about 35 miles an hour when Mrs. Speck appeared unexpectedly in front of his machine.

Faucett, 5647 Telegraph, said he pulled to the left but could not avoid striking the victim because of oncoming traffic in the opposition line. The right front fender of Faucett's car struck Mrs. Speck as she was crossing from the west to the east side of the street.

Mrs. Speck lived at the Edelweis lane address with a son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Boenninghausen.

A man was killed and his woman companion was injured seriously last night when an automobile in which they were riding crashed through a railing on the new Spring avenue viaduct and plunged about 35 feet to railroad tracks below.

Walter E. Adams, 27 years old, 3808 Olive street, died of internal injuries today at City Hospital. Mrs. Frank Doodcock, 25, 1419 (rear) Salisbury street, was unconscious when taken to the hospital. Both were extricated from the wrecked car by firemen.

Witnesses said the car was being driven south at high speed at 11:30 o'clock. It suddenly swerved out of control and crashed through the metal railing on the east side of the viaduct. The car was owned by Mrs. Woodcock's husband, but police were unable to determine who was driving.

Adam W. Frye, 54 years old, suffered multiple injuries when he was struck by an automobile at Jefferson avenue and Caroline street last night.

Vernon J. Zundel, 2549 Big Bend boulevard, Maplewood, told police he was driving south, and Frye walked into the path of the car. At City Hospital Frye was pronounced suffering from fractured legs, a fractured arm and head and internal injuries. He lives at 2353 Rutger street.

Richard McCarthy, a stagehand, received a skull injury in a collision of his automobile and a Public Service Co. bus at Natural Bridge and Fair avenues last midnight. Leonard Gross, the bus operator, said he stopped for a flashing signal and started to cross Natural Bridge when McCarthy's car crashed into the side of the bus. McCarthy, who lives at 6828 Addison avenue, is in City Hospital.

Robert F. Cordes, 18, was injured seriously when his car struck a tree at Spring avenue and Hartford street last night. Cordes, who lives at 7343 Wise avenue, Richmond Heights, was removed unconscious from the car and is in City Hospital with a fractured skull.

COUPLE PICKS UP MISSOURI TOWN'S ENTIRE TAX BILL

ROCKPORT, Mo., Nov. 4 (UPI)—Mr. and Mrs. George Opp have picked up the entire tab for Rockport's city tax bill for 1960, it was revealed yesterday.

The sum totaled $19,209, a donation in which the couple, which has operated Rockport's only hotel for 38 years, had hoped to remain anonymous.

Their gift became public when taxpayers began asking why they had not received their customary statements. With their check to the city, the Opps included a request that all city tax bills for the year be marked paid.

Mayor Wayne Peck issued a proclamation suggesting that citizens wishing to express their appreciation contribute the amount they would have paid in taxes to a special fund to provide town improvements otherwise impossible.

Opp and his wife, who operate a large farm acreage and reputedly are the county's biggest producers of corn, recently contributed $7000 to widen business street in this town of 1380 near the Iowa and Nebraska borders.

ROOM AFIRE, MAN LEAPS THROUGH WINDOW PANE

Willie Collins leaped through a window pane after he awakened and found his first-floor room at 3421 Marcus avenue in flames last night.

Firemen, who said the fire apparently was caused by careless smoking, estimated damage at $1300.

Collins, 34 years old, was taken to Homer G. Phillips Hospital with burns of the arms and legs and lacerations. James Jones, 3419 Marcus, who entered the house to assist an occupant, was burned on the hand.

TERRORISTS KILL AMERICAN CITIZEN IN SOUTH VIET NAM

SAIGON, South Viet Nam, Nov. 5 (UPI)—Communist terrorists ambushed and killed a United States safety expert and his Viet Namese jeep driver today near Long Hai, 70 miles east of Saigon, the United States Embassy announced.

The International Co-operation Administration in Washington identified the American as Dolph B. Owens of Tuscaloosa, Ala. Mrs. Owens was about to board a plane at Memphis, Tenn., en route to join her husband with her two small daughters when she was notified of his death. They returned home.

WOMAN FOUND HURT, APPARENT ROBBERY VICTIM

Knocked Down in Yard, Purse Missing—Gasoline Station Attendant Held Up.

Miss Lelia Gomez, 32 years old, suffered a severe head injury when she was knocked down in a yard in back of her home, 5616 Cates avenue, early last night, apparently by a robber.

Miss Gomez, saleswoman in a store in St. Louis county, was found lying in the yard by Mrs. Edna Ruple, her landlady, and Miss Albertina Saenz, with whom she roomed. Miss Saenz, becoming alarmed when Miss Comez failed to return home at 7 o'clock, asked Mrs. Ruple to drive her to Miss Gomez's place of employment. When the lights on the car, parked at the rear of the house, were turned on, the women saw Miss Gomez unconscious on the ground.

The victim's purse, thought to have contained about $40, was missing. At Homer G. Phillips Hospital a neuro-surgeon was summoned to perform a brain operation. Her condition is grave.

A man who snatched a purse containing $4 from Miss Clarice Webster in the back yard of her home, 3675 Alberta street, last night, fired a revolver shot at a neighbor who chased the thief through an alley.

After the man grabbed the purse, Miss Webster ran toward the alley, attracting the attention of Milton Schroeder, 3679 Alberta, who was in his yard. Schroeder chased the thief through the alley and saw him get in an automobile and speed away, after the wild shot halted Schroeder.

Johnny Boston, attendant at a gasoline station at Twelfth street and Delmar boulevard, told police he was robbed of $90 last midnight by two men who knocked him unconscious at the station, and drove his car to Hebert street and North Florissant avenue. Boston said that when he regained consciousness he was out of the car, parked nearby, and the men were gone.

Mrs. Ruth Wade, an employe of the Community Food Liner, 4811 Delmar boulevard, was robbed of an undetermined sum last night by a man who handed her a note threatening to "throw a 'bom' if you make a noise." The note described the robber as "a dope addict." Mrs. Wade handed him money from a cash drawer, and the man fled in a station wagon.

The hospital reported mothers and daughters were doing well.

Mrs. Rose, 42, is the wife of a surveyor. They live at 2016 East College avenue and have five other children, including Mrs. Bible. The Bibles, of 1506 East John avenue, have one other child. Bible is a trucking company dispatcher.

12,124 ATTEND RODEO, A FRIDAY NIGHT RECORD

A record Friday night crowd of 12,124 attended the Firemen's Championship Rodeo at The Arena last night, bringing total attendance for four nights to 37,441.

Bobby Cox of St. Louis suffered a bruised side when he was thrown by a Brahma bull in the bull-riding competition. The animal stepped on Cox after throwing him, and the cowboy had to be helped from The Arena.

The rodeo will conclude with performances at 8:30 p.m. today and at 2 and 6:30 p.m. tomorrow. Proceeds will go to the St. Louis Firemen's Relief Association.

Letters from the People

Industry for Missouri

All of Missouri would be amiss not to take exception to your recent editorial against the proposed constitutional Amendment No. 4 on Tuesday's ballot. A history of the legislation for this proposal shows that it failed in 1957 in the Legislature because of the inclusion of the metropolitan areas in its provisions. Now your great paper calls for the defeat of it for that principal reason.

Many of Missouri's problems today would already have been solved had the state received as much new and transplanted industry as some of our neighboring states. It would seem that in the background of your thinking is the thought that much of the industry in outstate Missouri would have to come at the expense of St. Louis and Kansas City. This could happen. But if firms are ready for moves for such reasons, state boundaries will mean nothing and others of our neighboring states with this and other favorable legislation will get them.

If this happens, then there is a great loss, not only to St. Louis or Kansas City but to the entire state as well. Other St. Louis industries will have to absorb the tax bill of the removed plant and so on.

You say, "Wait another two years." As both presidential candidates admonish us, we are living in rapidly changing times. Should Proposition No. 4 pass, it would be two to four years before any effect could be noticed from it in the way of factories, jobs and tax help. Securing industry, voting the necessary bonds, getting their issuance, building the factories and the securing and training of the employes could easily consume two years.

There is great apathy among voters in Missouri toward amendments in connection with general elections. Especially is this true with rural voters. Two years ago, only some 15 per cent of those voting actually marked these extra ballots in several counties here in Southeast Missouri.

In St. Louis, however, this figure went as high as 70 per cent. With the opposition of your paper, the task of passing such a measure becomes quite a challenge when these facts are considered. I hope that outstate Missouri will rally to the cause. I have never adhered to the adage that what's good for the city is bad for the country or vice versa. However, I firmly believe that Proposition No. 4 is and will be good for all of Missouri.

Shut Out in Clayton

I have just returned from a visit to the Board of Election Commissioners in Clayton. Since I am one of many who will be out of town Tuesday I wanted to cast my vote.

I was unable to do so because of the state of confusion that existed in the office. One clerk to serve approximately 50 or more people. Surely something can be done to organize this office to assist those who must vote ahead of time.

As I departed, completely disgusted, I noticed an office sign reading, "Vote Democratic." If what I witnessed in the election office is an example of Democratic organization, it's time some changes are made.

The employes in the courthouse should learn the meaning of common courtesy. J. A. Orton

Justice in the Dark

It was indeed heart-warming to read that Circuit Judge James F. Nangle convened court at 12:30 a.m. to order the release of a man picked up by police for questioning about a burglary. Such devotion should not go unnoted or unrewarded.

I'm sure that the fact that the individual was represented by St. Louis's foremost criminal attorney did not influence Judge Nangle.

Judge Nangle has demonstrated that a citizen—any citizen—may approach him at midnight and still receive the full benefits of his court—justice in the dark of night as well as the light of day. Publius

One-Way Road

Recently I traded autos and applied for a transfer of license. Naturally I paid the difference in going from a small car to one of more horsepower. But what I'd like to know is why doesn't the state reimburse those people having a license on a large car when they trade for a smaller one. Doesn't the road run two ways?

Fred L. Minor Sr.

Beneath Expectation

The United States snatched disappointment from victory in the United Nations debate on Cuba. This country won the 45-29 Assembly vote to send the issue to the Political Committee, but it hardly won as expected.

Washington's strategy was to permit the debate to show that only the Communist bloc supported Castro's Cuba. As a result, the State Department expected to win stronger support from the rest of Latin America, and from neutralist nations as well. The strategy almost worked. The Communist powers behaved as predicted; the secretary general of the Organization of American States, Dr. Jose Mora of Uruguay, protested that Cuba was by-passing the OAS. Yet, in the end, the strategy did not work.

Eighteen Asian-African nations sided with Cuba's demand for a full debate on charges of United States aggression. More significantly, six of the Latin American states which Washington sought most to impress abstained from voting. Venezuela and Mexico were among them.

These countries were less impressed by Communist ties with Cuba, apparently, than by the belief that the United States might have ousted Fidel Castro had not the U.N. taken up the issue.

Americans may well wonder how other nations could believe this. The Eisenhower Administration has emphatically denied any intent to intervene in Cuba. The President's new pledge to support the Guantanamo naval base is based on treaty rights and is not intervention. Yet the fact is that many Latin Americans suspect North American intentions as much as Castro's.

American diplomats and even presidential candidates make no secret of their hope that Castro can be toppled. But there is one item which, in timing as well as substance, contributed to suspicion in the U.N. more than anything else. That is the new United States trade embargo against Cuba, dramatically announced by Candidate Nixon.

The OAS itself rejected such an embargo. How can the United States impress upon its neighbors that it disavows unilateral pressure and seeks joint action when it adopts a unilateral measure which those neighbors collectively rejected? Is the embargo not a form of economic intervention? Many Latin American newspapers are asking these questions.

Mixing partisan politics with foreign policy is generally a mistake. By getting tough with Cuba for the purposes of a domestic campaign, the Eisenhower Administration weakened its defenses in the U.N. There is no way to twist the U.N. vote into a victory for American prestige.

Platform for County Democrats

County Democrats are entitled to commendation not only for drafting what is believed to be the first party platform advanced in the county but for the contents of that document as well. Insofar as it concerned itself with statutory changes the county must have—a countywide school tax to provide equal educational opportunities for all youngsters, for example—the platform was reasonably complete and in harmony with the nonpartisan recommendations of the Metropolitan St. Louis Survey.

Where it fell down, in our judgment, was in its weasel-worded approach to reform of county government. The Central Committee has now come out in opposition to the pending Charter proposals for a new Revenue Department staffed by persons hired on merit, not partisan considerations. While this is not unexpected, given the Democrats' strong vested interest in courthouse spoils, it does raise questions as to the basic integrity of the platform. Do the Democrats mean what they say or not? We hope so.

Otherwise, though, the Democrats' platform is a first-rate expression of objectives whose attainment is in the interest of county citizens regardless of political affiliation. Let us hope that those Democrats who are elected to the Council and the State Legislature follow the platform after Tuesday.

Being Second in Space

Ever since the orbiting of Sputnik I on Oct. 4, 1957, Soviet Russia has exploited to the utmost the psychological, political and propaganda possibilities of its space feats. The successes Moscow has scored with these tactics are embarrassingly evident in a United States Information Agency survey of world opinion on the relative space achievements of the United States and Soviet Russia. The report, marked "confidential" and not released, was obtained and printed by the New York Times.

According to this report, the belief is widely held that Russia is well ahead and will be still ahead 10 years from now. The report also asserts that unless we can achieve a spectacular "first" in space, the world will believe Moscow is going to continue to maintain its lead. Any attempts by us to disavow rivalry will indicate weakness unless we are recognized as having won first place, it concludes.

It was to be expected that any such survey on space would yield these results. The Administration began its policy of poohpoohing Soviet space successes five days after Sputnik I when President Eisenhower said: "So far as the satellite is concerned, that does not raise my apprehensions, not one iota." He has said repeatedly that we are not in a space race in any way with Moscow.

Apparently forgetting this, Vice President Nixon, in a letter dated Sept. 27 and published in the current issue of Missiles and Rockets, wrote: "If the Eisenhower Administration had not long ago recognized that we were in a strategic space race with Russia, our space record would not be as creditable as it is today." He then went on to point out that we have launched successfully 26 earth satellites and two space probes as compared to Moscow's "six satellites and two space probes."

It is true enough that some of our space ventures have surpassed Moscow's efforts in the gathering of scientific knowledge. Our discovery of the Van Allen radiation belts and our detonation in Project Argus of small nuclear bombs 300 miles up in space are examples. But the Russians, with their far more powerful rockets, did the spectacular things and did them first — got to the moon first and then photographed its unknown side, preceded us into solar space, put the first living animal into orbit. These things attracted attention everywhere and could be understood by all. Moscow properly exploited them.

Is it any wonder that the world at large and most Americans put Moscow down as first in space? Years from now it may be shown that our space efforts, slower and more concerned with scientific knowledge than Moscow's, were superior for the long run. But right now Moscow's spectacular feats have stolen the show.

A Corps of Peace

Senator Kennedy's proposal for a peace corps of volunteers to serve in the Point IV assistance program abroad—an idea broached earlier by Senator Humphrey—strikes us as exceptionally meritorious. As the Democratic presidential candidate envisions it, talented young men and women would be enrolled; for men, enlistment would serve as an alternative or supplement to peacetime selective service. Older persons who had retired or were willing to interrupt their careers to serve their country would also be enlisted. Rigorous standards would be applied, including knowledge of foreign languages, skills and customs.

Whether such a plan could take the place of the draft would depend to an extent on what would happen to volunteer enlistments, which the peacetime draft is largely intended to stimulate. But whether as alternative or supplement, it is the kind of constructive imagination that is so much needed now—a sort of international Civilian Conservation Corps and Fulbright scholarship wrapped into one. It could enrich the education and experience of the young people who took part in it at the same time that it was enabling them to perform real services to people in countries less fortunate materially than their own.

The enlistment of retired and older persons in the proposed peace corps is an idea the soundness of which has already been proved in the United Nations. Hundreds of men and women have left retirement to serve that organization in overseas jobs—as engineers, medical and farming specialists and financial and industrial experts; many of them with distinction. They are free to take an assignment for a year or two, as so many others are not.

The enthusiasm the peace-corps proposal has generated at the University of Michigan may be partly due to the fact that it is more attractive than selective service, but we like to think it principally due to the force of the idea itself. Seven hundred and fifty undergraduates there are reported to have volunteered as Americans Committed to World Responsibility, and they have written to 200 other universities and colleges inviting them to join. We like very much the name they have chosen, and a corps of Americans committed to world responsibility as they would be, working at it every day, might be just what is needed to restore a sense of national purpose and individual meaningfulness.

A Vote Costing Not a Penny

It is unfortunate that some citizens, either through misunderstanding or for the purpose of misleading, are against a proposed amendment to the City Charter on the ground that it will impose license fees on a great many St. Louisans. This simply is not true. The amendment will impose no new levies of any kind on anyone. It will merely enable the city government to consider new levies, if they should become necessary. Even then, no levy could be imposed without specific action by the Board of Aldermen. This means full publicity for any such proposal, and a full opportunity to oppose it.

The city undoubtedly would be happier if this amendment were unnecessary. Unfortunately, it is required by excessively restrictive state law. St. Louis is allowed to collect only such taxes and fees as are specifically mentioned in its half-century-old charter. The impediment this involves was painfully illustrated by the long struggle for the earnings tax. Surely St. Louisans deserve the right to meet their expenses by means they approve.

The present situation permits the taxation of long-established enterprises and occupations while, in effect, it exempts newer ones both from the taxation and the regulation achieved through licensing. Surely the city ought to have at least the opportunity to correct this unfairness. But even if the amendment is adopted—as Mayor Tucker says it should be—it will be impossible to levy a new fee without specific official action by the representatives of the taxpayers. A vote for the amendment will cost nobody a penny.

Behind the Toledo Crash

Some of the details that have been revealed in the Toledo crash of a chartered airliner give cause to wonder if the plane and its pilot should have been in the air at all. The Federal Aviation Administrator, E. R. Quesada, said that circumstances of the accident "indicate a gross disregard for public safety and FAA regulations." On the next day came the revelation that the license of the pilot, who died with 21 of the 48 persons aboard, had been ordered revoked last July 15.

The FAA files show that the pilot was given a hearing last May 23. It had been alleged that he had several times violated FAA safety regulations. The FAA notified him on July 1 that he was found guilty of the violations and that he had demonstrated a lack of the care, responsibility and judgment demanded of an airline pilot. The pilot then took advantage of his rights under the law and appealed his case to the Civil Aeronautics Board. This stayed the revocation of his license until the CAB made its ruling. Although the CAB hearing was on Aug. 23, there has been no finding announced.

Under our legal system a man is presumed innocent until he is proved guilty. Yet here was a man whose professional proficiency was seriously questioned by an official agency and who when flying held the lives of many persons in his hands. If he is found to blame for the Toledo crash, the question naturally will follow in the minds of the public: Why was this man allowed to fly when he was under charges? How serious must charges be to ground a pilot?

If it is argued that it is not fair to take a man's source of living away from him because he is under a charge, neither is it fair to put the public in the hands of a man whose fitness as a pilot is in doubt.

The Teen-Agers 'Charge It'

Amazing Growth of Credit for Youth Brings Warnings From Bankers and Congressmen

Richard Spong in Editorial Research Reports

"Charge it"—that magic and deceptive phrase which energizes our affluent society to a staggering degree—is being added to the vocabulary of the nation's teen-agers so rapidly that sharp warnings are being voiced in banking circles and in Washington.

Witnesses at hearings of a Senate Banking subcommittee reported that retail chains and some department stores are encouraging youngsters to sign up for revolving charge accounts. And for several years department stores have been urged by A. L. Trotta, manager of the Credit Managers Division of the National Retail Merchants Association, to establish Junior Charge Accounts.

The Mirror of Public Opinion

Consumer Reports quotes Trotta as recommending the teen-age market as "a made-to-order opportunity for the sales-minded credit executive." And Sears, Roebuck & Co. last year announced that it was opening up credit accounts to teen-agers in 18 of the communities in which it has stores.

The Teen-Age Market is burgeoning at an astonishing rate. Life magazine estimated that youngsters in 1959 were to spend—or have spent upon them—ten billion dollars. Moreover, the journal reported, nobody knows "to what extent teen-agers act as hidden persuaders on their parents' other buying habits." The daughter of a well-to-do Van Nuys, Calif., television announcer profiled by Life costs her parents close to $4000 a year; $1500 goes for clothes alone, and $550 for entertainment.

Quite a Lot on the Cuff

By 1970, when the teen-age population expands from the present 18,000,000 to an expected 28,000,000, youngsters may well be spending 20 billion dollars a year. And forward-looking retailers are doing their best to swell this market by representing their juvenile charge accounts as "community services" and "living educational programs in money management." William L. Cheyney, vice president of the Foundation for Consumer Credit, told the Senate subcommittee teen-age credit plans were not "money-making ventures" but attempts to "teach young people to use credit properly."

Senator Paul H. Douglas (Dem.), Illinois, on the contrary brands teen-age credit "one of the unfortunate developments in consumer credit." In a speech Douglas quoted Earl B. Schwulst, president of the Bowery Savings Bank, as saying such credit was "something like teaching the young to use narcotics."

Similar alarms is expressed by Consumer Reports, which notes that state laws allow 33 to 80 per cent interest on junior charge accounts. Interest rates are quoted by department stores at 1½ per cent a month, or 18 per cent in true annual interest. But when the legally established rate of 1½ per cent per month yields less than a minimum amount stipulated by state laws, as would occur when a juvenile account was limited to $25, higher minimum rates apply.

The National Retail Merchants Association contends that when dealing with children merchants do not take the full measure of all the law allows. Nevertheless, the legal minimum interest on a $25 charge account in New York state would be 33.6 per cent in true annual interest. In Montana the minimum rate would be 80 per cent—or a $20 interest charge on a $25 credit.

Senator Douglas notes that the credit plans frequently do not require the signatures of parents. Youngsters, he contends, are being urged to learn about credit by getting into debt, and the teen-age credit accounts are aimed at children "too old to spank but too young to garnishee."

Least Able Candidate

From the Park Region Echo, Alexandria, Minn.

People who should know consider Henry Cabot Lodge the most overrated figure in the political spotlight today.

His calculated appeal on the Republican ticket is predicated upon one thing only, his alleged ability "to stand up to the Russians."

Unfortunately, Mr. Lodge spent altogether too much of his time in the United Nations projecting an image of standing up to the Russians and altogether too little time doing the patient, exacting groundwork of diplomacy required of the Ambassador to the U.N.

This is not partisan sniping at the popular Mr. Lodge. It is the considered opinion of people outside the political arena who have had ample opportunity to watch him in action in the past. Joseph C. Harsch, the highly-respected NBC commentator, said Lodge's departure from the U.N. prompted widespread pleasure among European diplomats for it would take Mr. Lodge out of the foreign policy arena. Harsch said it had to be admitted that European diplomats with whom he had talked did not care for Mr. Lodge's tactics in the U.N. Specifically, he said, they felt that by his unceasing efforts to answer the Russians in kind, he succeeded only in annoying or antagonizing friends of the West without having any effect on the Russians themselves.

The famed London Economist summed it up succinctly in commenting, after Lodge's nomination for the Vice Presidency: "Those who have worked with him at the United Nations have doubts about his fundamental ability."

His showboating over the "bugged" American eagle emblem in the United States Embassy in Moscow did little to raise his prestige within the United Nations.

Though American newspapers gave Lodge the coverage he sought in the "expose" of the bugged eagle, U.N. delegates found the incident more embarrassingly amusing than significant, for the "bugged" eagle emblem had been common knowledge long before Lodge made his indignant revelation. As a matter of fact, the seal had been used for briefing purposes in security procedures in the State Department for at least six years.

Election Sweepstakes, British Style

THE BRITISH GENERAL ELECTION OF 1959, by D. E. Butler and Richard Rose. (Macmillan, 293 pgs., $4.50.)

This trenchant dissection of the British general election of 1959 got wide attention in the London press last summer. Among other things, the book gave increased currency to the word of psephology, which means the study of elections. The authors deplore the invention of such a tongue-twister and take pains to explain that the study of elections is not concerned primarily with forecasting results.

In the 1959 election, the British Conservative party won 49.4 per cent of the vote to Labor's 43.7 per cent, with the Liberals taking 5.9. The results gave Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and the Conservatives a resounding vote of confidence, and indicated striking advances for the Liberals. Labor, talking hard times and promising an increase in social services, lost ground.

Butler, dean and senior tutor of Nuffield College at Oxford University, and Rose, former St. Louisan also of Nuffield College, undertook in their book to analyze the behavior of the parties in the election and the response of the voters. The postmortem is most sharply done. It is informed, intelligent, readable and lacking in the formaldehyde reek that so often characterizes the output of our American social scientists.

There are chapters on the projection of party images, the social changes that made life easier for many Britons in the 1950s, the political use of television and radio, the press and public opinion polls. The election was hard fought down to the wire. Its outcome was uncertain on election eve. After the voting, it appeared that, as the authors put it, Labor's support had been significantly eroded by prosperity.

"While the Labor party has questioned the soundness of the country's prosperity and championed those who have not shared in it," say Butler and Rose in surveying the scene, "the Conservatives have captured prosperity as a symbol and fostered the spread of middle-class attitudes . . ." Is there a parallel in the American presidential campaign of 1960?

Butler and Rose, the latter a one-time member of the Post-Dispatch staff, make no effort to apply their findings elsewhere. As to predicting elections, they concede that the psephologist, however sophisticated, is not much more likely than anyone else to pick the winner in an election sweepstake. William K. Wyant Jr.

PROPOSES SCIENCE FOR PEACE PROJECTS

More co-operative programs among scientists of major world powers would help relieve tensions and suspicions which threaten to procoke nuclear war, Harlow Shapley, director of the Harvard College Observatory, said here last night.

Scientific attacks on problems of diseases, development of new foods and reclamation of arid land were mentioned as one of five short-term methods by which better relations among the great powers could be achieved. Shapley spoke at a public forum at the First Unitarian Church, 5015 Waterman boulevard.

He suggested also increasing student exchanges to a point where 10,000 students are taking part at all times, giving prizes to artists of other nations for superior achievement, featuring cultural and entertainment programs of other nations, such as Russian theater, in this country, and increasing international visiting by citizens of all nations to seek a better understanding of different political and economic systems.

Shapley observed that man could destroy the earth with his knowledge of nuclear power, but such an explosion would be no more than a small local disturbance in the universe.

Our sun, he said, is only "a second rate star' compared to billions of other suns in other galaxies. There are at least ten billion planets with conditions suitable for life in some form, he said.

We should place more faith in technology and less in religious dogma and mythology, Shapley said. He added that man is capable of magnificent achievements if heis able to stop "foot dragging socially while we rush ahead in science."

The world could have evolved naturally from hydrogen atoms without any supernatural control, he said. Shapley called for development of an ethical system applicable to today's world in place of a "system based on stories 2000 years old."

NEW YORK, Nov. 5 (AP)—Television star Arthur Godfrey will undergo minor surgery Wednesday or Thursday for removal of a cyst from his right side near the shoulder. The Columbia Broadcasting System said there is nothing to indicate any relationship with the removal of Godfrey's left lung in a cancer operation in April 1959.

2 LUTHERAN GROUPS STUDY CO-OPERATION

By JOHN T. STEWART
Church Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

The executive committee of the National Lutheran Council will meet in St. Louis Nov. 16-19, the first time in the council's history that its committee has met here.

A feature of the sessions will be the second meeting of the Missouri Synod with the council to discuss a theological basis of co-operation between the two groups.

The 2,351,000-member Missouri Synod is not affiliated with the National Lutheran Council, but co-operates in several N.L.C. programs, notably in the Lutheran Service Commission, Lutheran Immigration Service and Lutheran World Relief.

The N.L.C. represents eight Lutheran church bodies with a combined membership of 5,362,000, or about two-thirds of the 8,000,000 American Lutherans.

On Nov. 18 and 19, representatives of the Missouri Synod and N.L.C. will discuss co-operation. Their first meeting on Lutheran relations was held last July at Chicago.

The topic for discussion at the St. Louis meeting will be "The Significance of Confessional Subscription," dealing with the Lutheran churches' traditional adherence to historic doctrinal statements. Papers on this topic will be presented, for the Missouri Synod, by Prof. Herbert J. A. Bouman, professor of systematic theology at Concordia Theological Seminary, and for the N.L.C. by the Rev. Dr. Theodore G. Tappert, professor of church history at the Lutheran Theological Seminary, Philadelphia.

Lutherans find their doctrinal statements in the so-called Book of Concord, which was issued in 1580. It consists of a collection of Lutheran Confessions that emerged from the Reformation, and before—including the Apostles, Nicene and Athanasian creeds, and seven other documents written by Luther and Melanchthon.

The discussion in St. Louis will center on the way in which the various Lutheran churches use the confessional writings as the basis of their teaching, preaching and practices.

The N.L.C.'s Division of Lutheran World Federation Affairs will meet here all day Nov. 16. The fall meeting of the council's executive committee will be held from Wednesday evening, Nov. 16, through Friday noon, Nov. 18. The Rev. Dr. Norman A. Menter of Berkley, Mich., president of the council, will preside.

CATHOLIC MASS TO BE STUDIED BY 300 LEADERS

More than 300 Catholic parish leaders will make a special study of the Mass tomorrow at an institute at Ursuline Academy, 800 East Monroe avenue, Kirkwood. The institute will begin at 9:30 a.m.

The parish leaders who will be trained are expected to conduct similar Mass institutes in their own parishes.

The institute at Ursuline Academy is sponsored by the South Central District of the Councils of Catholic Men and Women of the St. Louis Archdiocese. The study of the Mass was undertaken at the request of Archbishop Joseph E. Ritter.

Maplewood Noses Out Lindbergh; Collinsville Wallops Alton

12th Man In Lineup Near End

By Bob Ruhl

Maplewood High could win the Suburban Middle Seven football title this season because of a time-out.

As the happy Blue Devils dashed off the field last night after trimming Lindbergh, 20-19, for their seventh straight victory in an unbeaten season, it became apparent just how close they had come to a tie.

Several observers, standing behind the end zone, had noted that Maplewood had an extra defender in the lineup when Lindbergh pushed over its final touchdown with 18 seconds left in the game.

The Flyers then called a time-out to talk over strategy before the try for the extra point. Maplewood, undoubtedly as confused as the spectators in the flurry of action in the final minutes of the game, also had time to regroup, and the extra man was sent off the field.

Try for Point Fails.

Chris Manczuk, a hard-running fullback, hit into the line but was stopped short of the goal and Maplewood had won. If the twelfth man had remained on the field, Lindbergh could have received another chance at the point-after-touchdown and a tie game.

And a tie could be enough for Maplewood to lose its chance for the championship even if the Blue Devils should defeat St. Charles in their last league game next week. Ladue, which has just three league games on its schedule, already has won one and will be the heavy favorite in the other two.

St. Charles, which lost its first game of the season last week to Lindbergh, rebounded with a 26-12 victory over Hannibal in a non-league game. Brentwood kept its Suburban Little Six record clean with a 47-0 triumph over Wellston.

University City took the lead in the Suburban Big Seven by downing Normandy, 41-13, for the Indians' sixth victory of the year. Joe Finch kicked five straight extra points.

Lindbergh, playing without four injured regulars, had not been expected to give Maplewood much trouble. But the Flyers proved stubborn and, even after the Blue Devils had built up a two-touchdown lead on some nifty passing by Dick Ulrich, didn't quit.

Flyers' Drive Stopped.

Late in the third quarter, with the score 20-13 against them, the Flyers began a drive from their own 19. It was stopped at the Maplewood 11 in the fourth period.

The Blue Devils couldn't move the ball and punted to their own 40. Lindbergh tried to go, but Bob Coffey's pass was intercepted by Jay Anderson. Again Maplewood couldn't roll. With a teammate backing into him, Art Lewis kicked high for a net of one yard and the Flyers had the ball on the Maplewood 24.

This time Maplewood's Bob Early picked off Gary Kingsfield's pass, and the Blue Devils with one eye on the clock, started to move. But Lee Row fumbled and Kingsfield recovered on the Devils' 41.

Lou Potsos and Manczuk did most of the ball-toting as the Flyers, taking good advantage of trap plays, banged forward. Ray Hansell, twisting and turning, carried five yards to the goal line and Kingsfield went over.

That set up the all-important extra point, but time was about to run out on Lindbergh.

Florida State Gains Most, but Miami Wins, 25-7

MIAMI, Nov. 5 (AP)—Florida State's Seminoles, 25-7 victims of the Miami Hurricanes, can vouch firmly today for the old saying that "football statistics are for losers."

The Seminoles controlled the ball, running 72 plays to 53 for Miami, and outgained the Hurricanes by ground and air, but dazzling home run shots by the Hurricanes gave them a solid victory before 37,984 fans in the Orange Bowl last night.

A 51-yard touchdown dash by Charley Yanda with an intercepted pass and a 32-yard scoring pass from Bobby Weaver to Bill Miller sparked the Miami attack.

It looked like anybody's ball game until the last quarter. With Miami leading only 10-7, quarterback Eddie Johns raced five yards to score. Then the Hurricanes struck again on Weaver's pass to kill any remaining Seminole hopes.

Warriors Win; Wilt Scores 44

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 5 (AP)—The Philadelphia Warriors have a perfect record, but in the eyes of their coach they "still aren't playing the kind of basketball I want."

"We have a ragged defense, and too many defensive lapses," said Coach Neil Johnston after the Warriors licked the Detroit Pistons, 136-121, last night. Philadelphia has won five and has the only undefeated record in the National Basketball Association. Detroit's record is 2-3.

Wilt Chamberlain scored 44 points, his best performance of the season, but he missed all 10 of his foul shots.

Foul shooting is a problem for the 7-foot-1 star, who is averaging about 34 points a game.

"The guy just doesn't have any confidence," Johnston said.

Chamberlain broke the game's thirteenth tie with a field goal to give Philadelphia a 102-100 lead early in the fourth quarter. The Warriors weren't headed again.

The Piston's Don Ohl got 10 points in a row in the third period and Gene Shue put together seven straight field goals in the second. Ohl was his team's high scorer with 24 points.

MIKE McKEEVER, star University of Southern California lineman, appeared to be making such good recovery from brain surgery that his doctor said he would allow him to listen to the U.S.C.-Washington football game on the radio today.

A new college all-star football game, which will be sponsored by the American Football Coaches Association, will be held in Buffalo in 1961 and 1962, for the benefit of the National Football Foundation and the Football Hall of Fame. The squads will be made up of 30 of the best football players east of the Mississippi river and an equal number from west of the river.

MARCEL PIGOU of France is a 2-1 favorite to beat RALPH (TIGER) JONES tonight in a nationally televised (Channel 2, 9 p.m.) 10-round middleweight bout at Boston. . . . The Orange Bowl remained in the running as the site of the next FLOYD PATTERSON - INGEMAR JOHANSSON fight when Miami officials said there would be no problem over integrated seating. "Integrated seating worked okay at a pro football exhibition last September," promoter W. H. PEEPIES said. . . . But EDWIN AHLQVIST, adviser to Johansson, said he thought the third fight would be staged in New York in the middle of next year.

Baseball Commissioner FORD FRICK said American League draft rosters as of Monday are being frozen until the player draft Dec. 1, to guard against irregularities. The freeze will have no effect on inter-league trading Nov. 21-Dec. 11.

The Chicago White Sox have asked waivers for unconditional releases of two former star pitchers, BOB RUSH and MIKE GARCIA.

Nebraska's football team declared in an open letter that the sports editor of the university's student newspaper owes Coach BILL JENNINGS "a public apology for misconstruing his statements." The editor had criticized Jennings sharply for a speech he made, in which the coach appeared to criticize fans, sports writers and broadcasters for inadequate support of the team. Jennings later said he didn't intend his remarks to leave that impression.

Hawks, Knicks Play Here

By John J. Archibald

The New York Knickerbockers, tonight's opponents of the Hawks at Kiel Auditorium, may be getting their lumps in N.B.A. basketball thus far, but Hawks Coach Paul Seymour got a glimpse of their potential the other night. For this reason he has cautioned his club against overconfidence when they meet the New Yorkers in a game scheduled to start at 9:15.

"They were 20 down against Los Angeles as the fourth quarter started, but five minutes later the Knicks were just eight down and they had possession of the ball," said Seymour. "They missed their next try for a basket and the Lakers managed to pull away again, but that shows you how fast an apparently beaten team can bounce back."

The 106-96 defeat by the Lakers in the opening game of a doubleheader at Detroit was the sixth loss against one victory for New York, St. Louis, which leads the western division of the National Basketball Association with a 4-1 record, hopes to keep the Knicks on their downhill trend tonight.

The late start for the game is due to the night's other attractions. At 7 o'clock there will be a tennis match between Althea Gibson and Karol Fageros. Miss Gibson includes two United States singles titles and two Wimbledon crowns among her honors.

A basketball game between the Harlem Ambassadors and the New York Skyscrapers will start at 8 o'clock. Many of the Ambassadors are former members of the Globetrotters.

There also will be entertainment provided between halves of the Hawks-Knicks game.

Clayton No. 1 Wins Water Polo Crown

Clayton No. 1 defeated Ladue No. 1, 6-3, last night for the championship of the Clayton High School invitational water polo tournament. Bernie Marshal and Charles Smithers each scored two goals for the winners.

Clayton No. 2 took third place, 9-6, over Ladue No. 2, as Jim Thurman scored four goals and Phil Smith three. John Myers scored three for Ladue.

Danny LaRose In PICTURES

Four pages of photographs of Danny LaRose, star end on the University of Missouri football team, appear in this week's PICTURES. The photographs, by Jack Gould of the Post-Dispatch staff, show LaRose receiving a pass, moving on defense, talking with Coach Dan Devine and teammates, kicking off and punting.

Hey! Duck Hunters

Winds are generally northerly 10 to 20 m.p.h. from St. Louis northward today and the weather in general will take a turn toward cooler. Even though a cooling trend is in progress, the next 24 hours will be relatively mild with temperatures in the mid 20s or 30s at night and 40s during the day.

Much colder air is expected to push southward into the north central states about Sunday morning and bring well below freezing temperatures into the Dakotas, Minnesota and possibly as far south as Iowa and northern Illinois. There is no snow cover in the northern Mississippi valley at present.

Along with mild temperatures skies will generally clear in the northern Mississippi and clear as far south as southern Missouri and Illinois by tonight.

Shooting hours (St. Louis vicinity): Tomorrow—6:04 a.m. to 4:56 p.m.; Monday—6:05 a.m. to 4:55 p.m.
(Furnished by U. S. Weather Bureau.)

'Skins May Use Young Secondary

A fairly young secondary defense was indicated for the Washington Redskins today as they awaited tomorrow's National Football League game with the Cardinals at Busch Stadium.

Injuries have dictated changes in the Skins' probable lineup for the defensive backfield. Veteran Gary Glick is likely to be replaced by rookie Jim Wulff at left safety. Pat Heenan, first-year player from Notre Dame, who had been regular right halfback, may be replaced by Ben Scotti. In other secondary positions are rookie Sam Horner at left halfback, and rookie Bill Brewer at right safety.

The Cards (3-3) are favored by 6½ points over the Redskins, who suffered their second defeat in a 1-2-2 record last week when they bowed to the Cleveland Browns. Game time will be the usual 1:05 p.m.

Madison Loses, 40-6, To Springfield Team

Madison High's football team completed its season last night by losing, 40-6, to Griffin at Springfield, Ill. Madison won two, tied one and lost five games.

Fumble Aids Illini To Score

By Harold Flachsbart
Of the Post-Dispatch Staff

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Nov. 5—A Michigan fumble led to a first-quarter touchdown for Illinois here this afternoon in a Big Ten football game in which the Illini were trying for a second conference victory.

A bobble by John Stamos was recovered by Illinois's Linebacker Bill Brown on the Michigan 18. It was touch and go as Marshall Starks gained five yards, three and then a first down at the 8.

Joe Krakoski gained two, was stopped on the five, but then Quarterback Johnny Easterbrook gained four yards. Easterbrook, on fourth down, passed to Starks for the tally. Gerald Wood place-kicked the extra point and Illinois led after the first quarter, 7-0.

Michigan bounced back in the second quarter with a 70-yard drive that was climaxed by a touchdown scored by Bill Tunicliff, after the Wolves were halted inside the five-yard line three time. Dave Glinka's pass to Dennis iFtzgerald was good for a two-point conversion, and midway in the second period, Michigan led, 8 to 7.

Mizzou Opposes Colorado

All roads lead to Columbia today where the undefeated University of Missouri Tigers oppose Colorado for the leadership of the Big Eight football race. Kickoff time is 1:30 p. m.

For the benefit of those who can't make the trip, there will be a radio broadcast over KMOX and the Missouri network.

Also on radio, station WEW will broadcast the Pittsburgh-Notre Dame game at South Bend at 12:50.

Washington University plays Drake at Francis Field, starting at 1:30 p. m.

L.A. Defense Halts Titans; Patriots Win

NEW YORK, Nov. 5 (UPI)—That "gimmick" which the Los Angeles Chargers have introduced to the free-wheeling American Football League is simply good old-fashioned defense.

Of course, the long-ball passing of quarterback Jack Kemp and the breakaway running of Paul Lowe have helped the Chargers win three in a row. But Coach Sid Gillman feels that "anytime a team holds another to one touchdown in this league, it has to come out on top."

And that's just what the Chargers did last night in New York to beat the Titans, 21-7, before a crowd of 19,402. The victory gave Los Angeles sole possession of first place in the Western Division of the league with a 5-3 record.

In the other A.F.L. game, Ed (Butch) Songin passed for three touchdowns and Dick Christy scored two in leading the Patriots to a 34-28 victory over the Oakland Raiders before a crowd of 8446 at Boston. The victory was the Patriots' third in eight games and their first at home.

Mexico Favored in World Cup Soccer Match With U.S.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 5 (UPI)—The strongest United States soccer team in years got in a final workout today in preparation for its international match with Mexico's national professional soccer squad tomorrow afternoon.

The Mexican team held a brisk drill yesterday on the Wrigley Field turf, where the American zone elimination match for the World Cup will be held tomorrow. (One St. Louis player, John Traina, is on the U.S. team).

Despite the improved United States squad, the Mexican team was favored to win here. The teams meet later this month in Mexico City, where the advantage was expected to be even more on the side of the Mexicans in the rarified altitude of 7400 feet.

FRANCOIS PRESENTS SPRIGHTLY RAVEL

By MANUS SASONKIN

The Piano Concerto of Maurice Ravel, which occupied the position of honor at yesterday afternoon's St. Louis Symphony concert in the Khorassan Room of the Chase Hotel, is not one of the most significant members of the concerto fraternity. Alternatingly buoyant and sentimental, it cleaves a narrow emotional path without attempting any massive search after profundity. It is, accordingly, easy to listen to, and even easier to forget. This may help to explain why it has never assumed a dominating role in the repertory.

Samson Francois, who performed the concerto, displayed a keen affinity for it, scampering with blithe dexterity through Ravel's labyrinthian roulades and avoiding the all too common mistake of probing beneath the surface for the gold which isn't there. His lightness of touch, simplicity of phrasing and acute objectivity were entirely in keeping with Ravel's intentions. Nowhere was this more pointedly demonstrated than in the slow movement, a languid, nostalgic lump of saccharinity, which Mr. Francois made palatable by understating it in a manner that would have appeared callous in almost any other context.

Conductor's Part.

From the podium, Edouard Van Remoortel achieved a more precise synchronization between solo and orchestra than I have heard from him in the past. His approach seemed heavier than Mr. Francois's; that, however, may have been due to the idiosyncracies of the Khorassan Room, which possesses the acoustical properties of a distended telephone booth.

The large work of the afternoon was Tschaikowski's "Pathetique" Symphony, which Mr. Van Remoortel directed in a spacious, frequently eloquent manner. Periodically, though, he spoiled it with some ruthlessly jarring change of tempo, which disintegrated the rhythmic structure, while pulverizing the emotional continuity.

Tschaikowski's music is sufficiently expressive in its own right to be played straight, and such directions as he supplies for tempo changes must be treated with infinite subtlety if the music is to remain cohesive. Mr. Van Remoortel's approach to the problem was anything but subtle, and more is the pity, for in virtually all other respects he had produced a memorable reading.

The balances were discreetly maintained, the phrase contours neatly molded. To be sure, the conductor treated his upper brass instruments with a certain circumspectness, and this timidity, plus the smothering acoustics, deprived the energetic third movement of much of its vigor. Otherwise the symphony lacked for naught.

The concert, which began with Rimsky-Korsakoff's "Russian Easter" Overture, is to be repeated tonight at Kiel Auditorium.

Concordia Concert.

Pianist Friedrich Gulda and the Vienna Philharmonic Wind Ensemble presented (under auspices of the Concordia Seminary Lyceum) a concert of chamber music at the seminary auditorium last night. The program, of unusual interest, consisted of the Quintets for oboe, clarinet, horn, bassoon and pianoforte by Mozart and Beethoven, as well as the latter composer's Bagatelles, Opus 126, for pianoforte solo.

It would be difficult to cavil at so lofty an undertaking, for the flaws in the performances were both superficial and incidental, while the virtues were decidedly fundamental. The unanimity and rapport of the ensemble, the musical involvement of the players and the pre-eminently sensible concept of tempo, balance and articulation were more than sufficient to compensate for the rather dry sound produced by the oboe, horn and bassoon, the periodic technical insecurities and a certain cavalier approach to intonation.

As soloist of the evening, Mr. Gulda left a definitely winning impression. His approach to Mozart and early Beethoven was properly lyric-dramatic, despite an occasional overstressed note, and his singularly mellow and flexible tone quality was employed to great advantage in his collaboration with the wind instruments. His realization of the Bagatelles deftly captured the whims, the concentration and the profundity of the mature Beethoven.

An enthusiastic audience greeted all three performances with abandon, and ultimately provoked the five participants into an encore.

CARLYLE DAM CONTRACT

Award of a contract totaling $226,653 to the Madison Construction Co. of Edwardsville for construction of facilities for the Carlyle Reservoir was announced yesterday by United States Representative George Shipley (Dem.), Olney, Ill.

The low bid of the Edwardsville firm included construction of an administration building, an overlook building, access roads, parking areas and utilities on the west side of the Kaskaskia river near the dam site north of Carlyle.

LAWYERS DENOUNCE PUERTO RICO BISHOPS

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico, Nov. 5 (UPI)—The Puerto Rican Lawyers' Association has joined those denouncing the action of the island's three bishops forbidding Roman Catholics to vote for Gov. Luis Munoz Marin and his Popular Democratic party.

The association voted 417 to 188 last night to censure the bishops for their pastoral letters that warned Catholics it would be a sin to vote for Popular party candidates in next Tuesday's election.

The vote came after a stormy 10-hour session, including four hours of debate. There were frequent interruptions from the floor as five speakers from each side addressed the meeting.

The resolution censuring the bishops was introduced by association president Manuel Abreu Castillo. It affirms the separation of church and state and rejects any attempt to prevent citizens from exercising their right to freedom of choice.

Wild applause greeted Jaime Benitez, chancellor of the University of Puerto Rico, who summed up the case for censure. Attorney Yami Galib argued on behalf of the bishops.

Observers said it was evident the issue, which has split communities and even families on the island, was a difficult one for individual lawyers to decide.

One young attorney who waited in line to cast his secret ballot said, "I still haven't decided how to vote on this — I am against the pastoral letters, but also against that part of the Popular Democratic platform that caused this."

A high church source said yesterday Catholics would not be excommunicated for the way they vote in the elections.

The source said the struggle between the church and the government is far from being over.

"It has just been joined," he said. "It promises to be a long-drawn-out affair."

Munoz is seeking his fourth term as governor. The church objects to him and his party on the ground they favor policies hostile to Catholic interests.

JOHN J. LESLIE CHARGES RIVAL WITH DISTORTION

St. Louis county highway engineer, John J. Leslie, Democratic candidate for re-election, charged his opponent, Edward W. Bilhorn, yesterday with "malicious distortion of facts" in the operation of his office.

Leslie showed copies of certified county audits and approved budgets of the highway division for the last four years, which he said proved that the highway engineer has operated within the budget recommended by the supervisor and approved by the County Council.

Speaking before a group of his supporters, Leslie stated that three of the four budgets in his term of office were recommended and approved by Republican administrations in the county government. He urged voters "to check the facts of these and other false charges" of his opposition.

U.S. TO ADVISE NINE LATIN NATIONS ON INVESTMENTS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5 (AP)—The United States is planning to send teams of experts to nine Latin American nations early in 1961 to show them how to speed up private investment. International Co-operation Administrator James Riddleberger described the plans yesterday in the official Foreign Commerce Weekly.

Astronomy Questions

By Ramon Coffman

SEVERAL QUESTIONS about astronomy have been asked by a school class, and I shall take them up today.

Q. Why is the sun larger than the planets?

A. The sun lights and heats some of the planets. If we had a small sun, only as large as the earth or Venus, it would fail (from the same distance) to warm us enough, or to give a good supply of light.

As it is, the sun has 109 times the diameter of the earth. It is truly of enormous size, but looks rather small when we see it from an average distance of 93,000,000 miles.

Please note that I say "109 times the diameter of the earth." Volume is something different. If you had a globe with an opening at the top, and with a diameter of 109 inches, how many one-inch marbles could you drop inside? The number would be vastly greater than 109.

Scientists figure that if we had 1,300,000 balls of soft clay the size of the earth, and could press them together, they would make a single ball about the same size as the sun.

Q. Why isn't there another sun to give us light on the earth?

A. If our earth happened to be between two suns, both sides would be lighted all the time. Personally, I think we need our sleep.

Q. Is gravity the only thing that helps us to stay on the ground?

A. Gravity is the only force known to keep us in place, or reasonably in place. We can walk or run, despite gravity, and can jump a few feet above the ground. If we lived on a globe as large and heavy as the sun, we should be "glued" to the surface.

If such a thing could happen as to lose the force of gravity, affairs would become topsy-turvy on earth. If we jumped just a little, we should go up, up and never would come back to the ground. In due time, I expect that people in a space rocket will be safe enough, but a trip into space without any covering would be a sad affair.
